USMCA AGREEMENT

An Agreement between USA, Mexico and Canada. The mutually beneficial for North American workers, farmers, ranchers, and businesses.

The new agreement, which entered into force on July 1, 2020, will create a more balanced environment for trade, will support high-paying jobs for Americans, and will grow the North American economy.

- NAFTA and USMCA product-specific rules of origin (PSR) are similar, with both using net cost and transaction value to calculate regional value content.
- USMCA also maintains and expands on the higher regional value content requirements used in NAFTA.
- There are selected sectors where the USMCA PSRs are significantly different, including autos and auto parts, selected steel products and chemicals.
- There are also specific products where the PSRs were changed to reflect changes in the market since NAFTA.

Tariffs

All products that have zero tariffs under NAFTA will remain at zero under USMCA. Canada will provide new and expanded access (via Tariff Rate Quotas) for U.S. exports of several dairy categories, including:

- Milk
- Cheese
- Cream
- Skim milk powder
- Condensed milk
- Yogurt

Canada will also eliminate its tariffs on whey and margarine.

Certification of Origin

The USMCA does not require a certificate of origin. A minimum set of data elements must be presented to prove origin. These items may be on an invoice or any other document, except a commercial document issued in a country that is not a party to the Uniform Regulations. This can be completed and submitted electronically with an electronic or digital signature and can cover a single import or multiple imports of identical goods within a maximum period of 12 months.

The importer is responsible for exercising reasonable care regarding the accuracy of all documentation submitted to CBP. The minimum nine elements required to claim origin under USMCA are: Importer, Exporter, or Producer name and address description, the Harmonized System Tariff

Classification of the merchandise at the 6-digit level, specific criteria under which the merchandise complies with the original requirements of the T-MEC, authorized signature and date.

OMG

- Full national treatment for copyright and related rights.
- Copyright term of life of author +70 years or publication +75 years.
- Establishes appropriate copyright safe harbors to deter online piracy.
- Requires application of enforcement measures to the digital environment.
- Maintains NAFTA's existing zero-tariff treatment, significantly expands U.S. access to Canada's dairy market, and includes a number of other important upgrades.

USMCA VS NAFTA

- Includes a modernized chapter on sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) measures that establish new and enforceable rules to ensure that SPS measures are science-based and are developed and implemented in a transparent and non-discriminatory manner.
- Commitments to liberalize financial services markets; facilitate a level playing field for U.S. financial institutions, investors and investments in financial institutions; and expand trade in cross-border financial services.
- Expanded commitments in cross-border services include portfolio management; investment advice; electronic payment services, which are subject to national treatment and market access obligations; and a prohibition on local presence requirements.
